Commonwealth Council for Educational Administration and Management, Australia

Email: jlewis@pnc.com.au

As the Director of Jenny Lewis and Associates, Jenny provides consultancies for a number of Ministries of Education, professional associations and schools in areas of leadership and management, quality improvement and pedagogical reform.

She has led reviews of individual schools, Dioceses and Departments of Education evaluating successful learning environments and the shift from schooling to learning. Jenny has been appointed to lead the development of the School Leadership Strategy for the British Commonwealth and is currently leading the development of the Leadership Capability Framework and its programs for Early Childhood Australia; the development of the leadership interface for a world-first online professional learning world and network for the Australian Government; and leadership programs for the Abu Dhabi Education Council and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Tatweer project.

Jenny is the Executive Director of the Commonwealth Council for Educational Administration and Management and the International Congress for School Effectiveness and Improvement. In these roles she provides support to educators who work with schools and systems in their pursuit of improving student outcomes through quality leadership and organisational improvement programs.
