

Course Title	:	In search of narratives in life 尋找生命的故事
Course Code	:	CSL1007
Department	:	Curriculum and Instruction

Synopsis

This course creates an opportunity for students to learn from the life experiences of people in different life circumstances through service-learning in different organizations such as Homes for the Elderly, sports teams for blind people, and hospitals. In establishing personal connections with people in need of help, students will learn to show their care and concern. Through building trustful relationships with needy people, students will listen to and learn from the life stories of people with different background and experience. Through reflection on the stories collected and on their own learning experience, students will begin to make meaning and construct their own philosophy of life by using a narrative approach to understand experiences.