Karen Seashore Louis is a Regents Professor and the Robert H. Beck Chair at the University of Minnesota. She has also served as the Director of the Center for Applied Research and Educational Improvement at the University of Minnesota, Department Chair, and Associate Dean of the College of Education and Human Development. Her research focuses on school improvement and reform, leadership in school settings, and the politics of knowledge use in education. Recent books include Organizing for School Change (2006), Aligning Student Support with Achievement Goals: The Secondary School Principal's Guide (with Molly Gordon, 2006), Professional Learning Communities: Divergence, Depth and Dilemmas (with Louise Stoll, 2007), and Building strong school cultures: A guide to leading change (with Sharon Kruse, 2009), and Linking Leadership to Student Learning (with Kenneth Leithwood, in press), and Educational Policy: Political Culture and Its Effects (in preparation). She is a Fellow of the American Educational Research Association, where she also served as the President of Division A (Educational Administration). In 2007 she received the lifetime Contributions to Staff Development award from the National Staff Development Association, and was the recipient of the Campbell Lifetime Achievement Award from the University Council for Educational Administration in 2009.
