Allan Walker is Chair Professor of International Educational Leadership and Co-Director of The Joseph Lau Luen Hung Charitable Trust Asia Pacific Centre for Leadership and Change (APCLC) at The Education University of Hong Kong (EdUHK). Previously he had served as Joseph Lau Chair Professor of International Educational Leadership, Dean of the Faculty of Education and Human Development and Director of APCLC. Prior joining the EdUHK, he has worked in universities in Australia, Singapore and Hong Kong and has conducted leader development courses and/or research in America, Europe and across the Asia Pacific.

In 2010 and 2011 he was made a Fellow of the Australian Council for Educational Leadership and endowed chair professorship by The Education University of Hong Kong respectively in recognition of his outstanding research and academic achievements in international educational leadership globally, but especially in South and Southeast Asia. In 2015 he received the Edwin M. Bridges Award for significant contributions to the preparation and development of school leaders from the University Council of Educational Administration.

Allan serves on the editorial boards of the top ranked journals in his field and has published extensively on educational administration and leadership; and leadership development and learning. His work also explores the relationship between culture and leadership. He has published over 300 books and articles with international publishers and in the world's most prestigious academic journals. His most recent book is Deciphering School Leadership in China: Conceptualisation, Context and Complexities (co-authored with Qian Haiyan).
