

Dr. Dhirapat Kulophas

Chulalongkorn University

Email: dhirapat.k@gmail.com

Dr. Dhirapat Kulophas is a respected academic in the Faculty of Education at Chulalongkorn University. With experience as an industrial engineer and school principal in Thailand, his background enriches his academic role. Holding degrees from Chulalongkorn University and Ohio State University, including a Ph.D. in Research Methodology in Education, his expertise encompasses K-12 leadership, positive school climates, teacher learning, and technology leadership. Supported by research grants from The Thailand Research Fund, The Teacher Council of Thailand, and OTEPC, Ministry of Education, he has been instrumental in leading research projects since 2015, contributing to evidenced-based national policy changes. Dr. Kulophas' insights have appeared in respected journals including the Journal of Educational Administration, International Journal of Educational Management, Professional Development in Education, and the International Journal of Leadership in Education, reflecting his commitment to advancing educational practices.

Technology in School Leadership and Learning

科技賦能學校領導與學習

