Email: zgyuan@dem.ecnu.edu.cn

Yuan Zhenguo is a distinguished Chinese educationalist and full professor at East China Normal University (ECNU). He has held prominent roles, including Deputy Director of the Department of Teacher Education and the Department of Social Sciences at the Ministry of Education, Director of the National Institute of Education Sciences, and Secretary-General of the National Education Advisory Committee. Currently, he serves as Dean of ECNU's Faculty of Education, Vice President of the Chinese Education Society, and Deputy Director of several academic committees.

A leading figure in education theory, Yuan authored the acclaimed Contemporary Pedagogy—a national textbook that won the First Prize of the National Textbook Award. His bestselling New Educational Ideas has been reprinted over 20 times. He is also a pioneer in educational policy research, producing influential works such as Theory on Education Reform and Educational Policy Science, the latter earning a National Humanities and Social Sciences Research Award. Additionally, he edits the internationally recognized Review on China's Educational Policies, now in its 15th year.

Yuan has shaped national education discourse, including delivering a keynote speech at the 26th Political Bureau Collective Learning Meeting on prioritizing education for China's development.
