

Shanghai World Foreign Language Academy (WFLA)

Shanghai World Foreign Language Academy (formerly known as WFLA) was founded in 1996. It is a private middle school in Shanghai with excellent academic and social reputation. The school is recognized as Shanghai Civilized Unit, Shanghai Model School for Behavioral Norms, and First Batch of Experimental School for Quality Education in Xuhui District.

The school clearly sets the goal of "Cultivating modern Chinese individuals who are globally oriented" and actively explores and practices quality education. Its aim is to cultivate students with qualities of "Compassion, Elegance, and Magnanimity." The school adopts the core educational philosophy of "Participation & Practice" (abbreviated as "P&P"), emphasizing the active participation of students, tapping into their potential, fostering cooperation mindsets, and enhancing their innovative abilities.

The school focuses on cultivating students' humanistic qualities and their awareness of the times. Its objective is to develop students with a global perspective and cultural outlook. Through experiential, cooperative, inquiry-based, and project-based educational approaches, the school aims to cultivate students who possess comprehensive development in morality, intelligence, physical fitness, aesthetics, and labor skills. These students will be equipped to become modern Chinese individuals ready to engage with the world.

The school has two educational stages, namely middle school and high school. The middle school section is further divided into regular classes, bilingual classes, and inclusive classes. The high school section follows an international high school curriculum. The school has two campuses located at 602 Hongcao South Road, covering an area of 19,877 square meters, and 400 Baihua Street, covering an area of 9,212 square meters. The campus environment is elegant, providing students with open, orderly, and interactive spaces.

The school boasts a dedicated and experienced teaching faculty with a strong educational background. The teacher-student ratio is 1:8. Among the teachers, there are over twenty individuals who have been recognized as National Ten Thousand Talents Program Outstanding Teachers, Leading Class Teacher in the Yangtze River Delta, participants in Shanghai's Peak Plan and Tackling Key Problems Plan, top talents in Xuhui District, and key teachers.
