Part II

The University's Graduate Attributes and seven Generic Intended Learning Outcomes (GILOs) represent the attributes of ideal EdUHK graduates and their expected qualities respectively. Learning outcomes work coherently at the University (GILOs), programme (Programme Intended Learning Outcomes) and course (Course Intended Learning Outcomes) levels to achieve the goal of nurturing students with important graduate attributes.

In gist, the Graduate Attributes for Undergraduate, Taught Postgraduate and Research Postgraduate students consist of the following three domains (i.e. in short "PEER & I"):

- Professional Excellence;
- Ethical Responsibility; &
- Innovation.

The descriptors under these three domains are different for the three groups of students in order to reflect the respective level of Graduate Attributes.

The seven GILOs are:

1. Problem Solving Skills
2. Critical Thinking Skills
3. Creative Thinking Skills
- 4a. Oral Communication Skills
- 4b. Written Communication Skills
5. Social Interaction Skills
6. Ethical Decision Making
7. Global Perspectives

1. Course Synopsis

This course aims to equip students with the theoretical framework to examine the international politics in Asia amidst the rise of China. With China's growing economic strength and political influence, neighbouring states as well as countries in other regions have to redefine their strategies to deal with their common interests as well as conflicts with their neighbours. The course will focus on the following questions: 1) How mainstream theoretical perspective explains the international politics in Asia? 2) How the rise of China reshapes the relationship among Asian countries? 3) What are the institutional frameworks that facilitate regional cooperation and resolve potential conflicts in East Asia? 4) What are the issues and challenges confronts by Asian countries on their way to achieve greater regional integration? The course will first provide the mainstream theoretical perspectives on international relations. It will follow by discussions on various thematic issues and challenges in the regional politics in Asia.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CILO₁* : Apply the mainstream theoretical frameworks to analyse international relations in Asia.
- CILO₂* : Understand the developments of institutional frameworks for regional integration and the contending issues that challenge cooperation.
- CILO₃* : Critically assess the impact of China's rise on regional politics in Asia
- CILO₄* : Adopt a global perspective to assess various development experiences in Asia.
