We are looking for suitable candidate(s) to fill the following position(s). If you are excited by the prospect of contributing your expertise to the development of a leading university at the heart of Asia Pacific region and beyond, we would like to hear from you.

Associate Professor (Ref: AssoProf/EPL/0221)
Department of Education Policy and Leadership
Faculty of Education and Human Development

The Department of Education Policy and Leadership (EPL) seeks to recruit an emerging scholar at the rank of Associate Professor in the area of educational leadership. The successful candidate will aspire to work individually and in teams to conduct cutting edge leadership research. Areas of current strategic interest include leading teacher learning and development, school leadership across Greater China and the Greater Bay Area, and leadership in international schools. Experienced researchers with an internationally recognized research and development agenda in other areas of educational leadership will also be considered.

EPL hosts a range of postgraduate programmes and specializations, professional development activities, and undergraduate courses related to educational leadership, policy, innovation, school development, and teacher development and professionalism. If appointed, the candidate will teach related undergraduate and postgraduate courses in addition to conducting research and community services.

Applicants should have a Doctoral Degree in Educational Leadership, a clearly developed research agenda, a strong record of publications in high-quality leadership journals, and evidence of capacity to win competitive research grants. Prior teaching experience in higher education is essential. Candidates must be highly proficient in English. Understanding of Chinese and the Hong Kong and Greater Bay context, while not required, are desirable. Supervision of PhD students and experience of school-university partnership are also desirable. The position will begin on 1 July 2021.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract. Fringe benefits include contract-end gratuity, leave, medical and dental benefits, and where applicable, housing benefits.

Application Forms are obtainable from (a) <http://www.eduhk.hk/hro/applyfor.htm>; or (b) the Human Resources Office, 3/F, Cho Kwai Chee Foundation Building, The Education University of Hong Kong, 10 Lo Ping Road, Tai Po, New Territories, Hong Kong. The completed Application Form, together with full CV, should be sent to the Human Resources Office by email to hro1@eduhk.hk or by post to the above address. Review of applications will start from 24 February 2021, and will continue until the post is filled. Please quote the reference number of the position in the application and mark "Strictly Confidential – Job Application" on the envelope. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes.
