We are looking for suitable candidate(s) to fill the following position(s). If you are excited by the prospect of contributing your expertise to the development of a leading university at the heart of Asia Pacific region and beyond, we would like to hear from you.

Associate Professor/ Assistant Professor (Ref: 2100439)
Department of Literature and Cultural Studies
Faculty of Humanities

The Department of Literature and Cultural Studies seeks applications for a full-time academic position in modern Chinese literature. All applicants must have a doctoral degree and must be able to demonstrate an active research agenda and post-qualification teaching experience in tertiary institution(s). Applicants with substantial previous experience may be considered for the rank of Associate Professor.

The ideal candidate will specialize in one of the department's existing areas of strength, like Chinese literature and/or culture (including Hong Kong literature), or may have interests that extend to the department's other disciplinary areas, like history, cultural studies, creative writing, or humanities education. Additional interests in emerging areas like digital humanities, public history, or cultural heritage as well as knowledge and experiences in the Greater Bay Area (GBA) would also be advantages. The ideal candidate will be able to extend the department's national and international networks.

The appointee will be required to pursue a research agenda that leads to successful grant proposals and publications in recognized refereed journals. The appointee will also contribute to programme development, teach undergraduate and postgraduate courses, supervise students on teaching practice, participate in knowledge transfer activities, and engage in departmental and faculty service.

A start date as soon as January 2022 is possible.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract. Fringe benefits include contract-end gratuity, leave, medical and dental benefits, and where applicable, housing benefits.

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for this post. Applicants should complete the online application form and upload a full CV. Review of applications will start from 21 October 2021, and will continue until the post is filled. Applications which are incomplete or without the required documents may not be considered. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes. For details of the Personal Information Collection Statement, please refer to <http://www.eduhk.hk/jobsoff/index.php?glang=en>.

All applications will be treated in strict confidence. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted. The University reserves the right not to fill the position(s) advertised. Since the incumbent's work would involve contacts with persons aged under 18 and/or mentally incapacitated persons, prospective employee(s) will be required to undergo Sexual Conviction Record Check operated by the Hong Kong Police Force.
