

Founded in 1994 and awarded the University title in 2016, The Education University of Hong Kong (EdUHK) is a publicly funded university, dedicated to the advancement of teacher education and related disciplines through a diverse offering of academic, professional and research programmes. The University aspires to become a leading university in the Asia Pacific region and beyond, with a focus on educational and multidisciplinary research, development and innovation. We are committed to nurturing outstanding and caring educators and professionals as well as enhancing the impact of scholarship.

The University has an academic/teaching staff strength of about 450 and total student headcount of about 11,000. It has a Graduate School and three Faculties, namely, Faculty of Education and Human Development, Faculty of Humanities, and Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, comprising 14 academic departments, as well as two Academies, Academy for Educational Development and Innovation and Academy for Applied Policy Studies and Education Futures, a number of University-level research centres and Faculty-level research and professional development centres. For more information about the University, please visit <http://www.eduhk.hk>.

To continue pursuing excellence in the advancement of knowledge, scholarship and innovation through high quality research, we are seeking enthusiastic and highly dedicated academics to join the University in support of its strategic development in diverse areas.

Assistant Professor (Ref: 2501074)
Department of Education Policy and Leadership
Faculty of Education and Human Development

The Department seeks to appoint an Assistant Professor in education studies, life and values education, and patriotic education. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching contribute to the study of values and patriotic education in local and global contexts, with a focus on philosophical and socio-cultural issues in education, moral and civic development, and the role of education in shaping ethical and responsible citizenship.

Candidates with expertise in education studies (including philosophical and socio-cultural dimensions of education), life and values education, undergraduate general education (various courses and tutorials), and international and global studies in education are encouraged to apply. A disciplinary background in the social sciences, philosophy, and/or research methodology (qualitative and/or quantitative approaches) will be an advantage.

The appointee will contribute to the Department's teaching, research, project supervision, and programme and curriculum development at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Responsibilities may also include course and programme management, as well as supervision of fieldwork and teaching practicum.

The appointee should

- hold a Doctoral degree and prior degrees in fields relevant to one or more of these areas;
- be an active researcher with a growing publication record, capable of securing competitive external funding and publishing in leading international journals;
- have teaching experience and a record of excellence in teaching (Qualified Teacher Status is a plus); and
- be fluent in English, with ideally some knowledge of Cantonese and/or Mandarin Chinese and an understanding of the educational landscape of Hong Kong and/or China.

Applicants should provide evidence of scholarship, research, and publications in relevant fields, particularly in areas related to values and patriotic education.

Further information about the Department is available at <https://www.eduhk.hk/epl/en/>

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract. Fringe benefits include the University's Voluntary Contributions to MPF Scheme or a contract-end lump sum payment (totaling up to 15% of the basic salary), leave, medical and dental benefits, and, where applicable, housing benefits.

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for this post. Applicants should complete the online application form and upload a full CV on or before 7 November 2025. Applications which are incomplete or without the required documents may not be considered. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes. For details of the Personal Information Collection Statement, please refer to <http://www.eduhk.hk/jobsoff/index.php?glang=en>.

All applications will be treated in strict confidence. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted. The University reserves the right not to fill the position(s) advertised. Since the incumbent's work would involve contacts with persons aged under 18 and/or mentally incapacitated persons, prospective employee(s) will be required to undergo Sexual Conviction Record Check operated by the Hong Kong Police Force.

EdUHK is an Equal Opportunities Employer.
