

Lecturer I (Fractional) (3 Posts) (Ref: 2600397) Department of Health and Physical Education

The Department of Health and Physical Education at The Education University of Hong Kong seeks to appoint a colleague at the Lecturer I level. As articulated in our Vision, Mission and Values <https://www.eduhk.hk/hpe/en/About-Us/Vision-And-Mission.html>, we are committed to advancing knowledge and practice in health, physical education, and sport science, through research-informed teaching, international collaboration, and community engagement. We aspire to be a recognised centre of excellence with a growing regional and international presence, contributing to both scholarly advancement and societal wellbeing.

The Department offers a vibrant and collegial academic environment, with expertise spanning health literacy, telehealth, physical literacy, sport pedagogy, high-performance physiology, digital physical education, sports nutrition, mental health and well-being. We are now seeking colleagues who can complement and extend our strengths across teaching and service. While we particularly welcome applicants with expertise in health education and promotion, sports and exercise science, exercise and performance psychology, pedagogy and curriculum studies, research methods and measurement, research design, statistics, and data analysis. Successful candidates will contribute to teaching excellence, supervise honours research projects, and develop impactful scholarship that advances health, active living, and well-being across diverse.

The appointees will undertake teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels, supervise students on teaching practice, community health practice, research projects, capstone projects and contribute to programme development.

Applicants should have a Doctoral degree, with at least four years' post-master's degree qualification teaching experience in the tertiary education setting, preferably possessing qualified teacher status and/ or professional qualification in Health, Physical Education, Sports Science or a closely related discipline. Candidates should provide evidence of quality teaching and/or a proven record of successful, relevant professional experience at the tertiary level. They should be fluent in English, Cantonese and Mandarin Chinese. Candidates with international experience would also be highly valued.

For information about the Department, please visit our website: <https://www.eduhk.hk/hpe/>.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Fringe benefits include leave, medical and dental benefits.

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for this post. Applicants should complete the online application form and upload a full CV on or before 12 June 2026. Applications which are incomplete or without the required documents may not be considered. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes. For details of the Personal Information Collection Statement, please refer to <http://www.eduhk.hk/jobsoff/index.php?glang=en>.

All applications will be treated in strict confidence. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted. The University reserves the right not to fill the position(s) advertised. Since the incumbent's work would involve contacts with persons aged under 18 and/or mentally incapacitated persons, prospective employee(s) will be required to undergo Sexual Conviction Record Check operated by the Hong Kong Police Force.

Further information about the University is available at <http://www.eduhk.hk>.

EdUHK is an Equal Opportunities Employer.

