

Research Assistant I (Ref: 2600561)

Academy for Applied Policy Studies and Education Futures (AAPSEF)

Project Title: Master of Science in Low-Altitude Economy and Management

[Appointment Period: 24 months]

The Academy for Applied Policy Studies and Education Futures (AAPSEF) is seeking an inspirational and energetic candidate for the position of Research Assistant I to support its expanding scope of research, learning and teaching initiatives. This is an exciting opportunity for individuals who wish to contribute to dedicated teams and advance their careers in higher education.

The appointee will provide research and technical support for various projects, as well as learning and teaching activities within programmes, e.g.: new programme in Low-Altitude Economy Management. Responsibilities mainly include: (i) building good relationships with students to provide timely support and coaching for their well-being; (ii) organising and promoting a range of student activities and assisting in the implementation of projects related to student support, including students' mental health, academic advising and career development; (iii) coordinating student visits in Hong Kong, the Greater Bay Area as well as overseas for outbound learning, such as study tours, field trips, and co-curricular and service learning; (iv) working with different programme teams and other units at the university to strengthen the integration of student support service; and (v) preparing plans and reports to communicate the impact and effectiveness of student support initiatives. The initial appointment will be for a period of 2 years with the possibility of renewal subject to mutual agreement.

Applicants should possess a Bachelor's Degree, preferably a Master's Degree relevant to Low-Altitude Economy or in a relevant discipline. Relevant experience in organising student activities and providing teaching support is highly desirable. They should have a strong command of both written English and Chinese. Proficiency in spoken English and Putonghua is a must. They should be self-motivated, with strong problem-solving, communication, project management, and organisation skills. Candidates with experience in providing learning and teaching support in tertiary institutions will have an advantage. Immediate availability is preferred.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract. Fringe benefits include contract-end gratuity, leave, medical and dental benefits.

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for this post. Applicants should complete the online application form and upload a full CV on or before 31 July 2026. Applications which are incomplete or without the required documents may not be considered. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes. For details of the Personal Information Collection Statement, please refer to <http://www.eduhk.hk/jobopp/index.php?glang=en>.

All applications will be treated in strict confidence. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted. The University reserves the right not to fill the position(s) advertised. Since the incumbent's work would involve contacts with persons aged under 18 and/or mentally incapacitated persons, prospective employee(s) will be required to undergo Sexual Conviction Record Check operated by the Hong Kong Police Force.
