The Education University of Hong Kong

Founded in 1994 and awarded the University title in 2016, The Education University of Hong Kong (EdUHK) is a publicly funded university, dedicated to the advancement of learning and teaching through a diverse offering of academic and research programmes up to doctoral level in teacher education and complementary disciplines, such as the social sciences and humanities. The University aspires to further enhance its role as a leading university in the Asia Pacific region and beyond, with a focus on educational research, development and innovation, and recognized for its excellence in nurturing outstanding and caring professionals as well as the impact of scholarship.

The University has an academic/teaching staff strength of about 450 and total student headcount of about 11,000. It has a Graduate School and three Faculties, namely, Faculty of Education and Human Development, Faculty of Humanities, and Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, comprising 16 academic departments, as well as various University-level and Faculty-level research and professional development centres. For more information about the University, please visit <http://www.eduhk.hk>.

We are looking for a suitable candidate to fill the following position. If you are excited by the prospect of contributing your expertise to the development of a leading university at the heart of Asia Pacific region and beyond, we would like to hear from you.

Dean of the Faculty of Education and Human Development

Reporting to Vice President (Academic) and Provost of the University, the Dean of the Faculty of Education and Human Development is responsible for the dynamic and innovative leadership and management of the Faculty. He/She is a member of the Senior Management Committee who will foster excellence in teaching and learning, research and external relationships in accordance with the University's vision, mission and strategic plan, and will be responsible for ensuring high standards, consistent with international best practice. Specifically, he/she will:

- contribute to the strategic and academic planning, policy development and leadership of the University, and work collaboratively with other faculties and offices;
- provide effective leadership and direction in strategic and academic planning, policy development as well as research and scholarship to continuously enhance the Faculty's reputation and performance;
- ensure the effective management of the financial, people, physical and technological resources of the Faculty (including its cognate Departments) to achieve the University's strategic and academic goals;
- monitor the performance outcomes of the Faculty within the framework of the quality assurance policies and systems of the University; and
- initiate and develop effective local, regional and international collaborative relationships with relevant professional associations, the Education Bureau, schools, universities and other education providers and research institutes, as well as driving knowledge transfer initiatives.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree in an area relevant to the Faculty, a distinguished, internationally-recognised record of research and scholarship, a proven record of outstanding academic leadership in tertiary institutions, including the management of human and financial resources, budgeting and external networking. The appointee must demonstrate a commitment to leading research and pioneering cutting-edge developments in the relevant disciplines, and possess strong communication and networking skills to rally the support of internal and external stakeholders for the benefit of the Faculty and the University. A good knowledge of and appreciation of the challenges of working in a multicultural context will be an advantage.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Remuneration package will be highly competitive and attractive fringe benefits will be offered.

The University is being represented in this search by Korn Ferry (HK) Limited. Interested parties are invited to submit applications/nominations to Korn Ferry c/o Mr TT Ho, Senior Client Partner, at DeanEdU@kornferry.com.

All applications/nominations will be treated in strict confidence. Review of applications will start from April 2020, and will continue until the post is filled. However, the University reserves the right not to fill the position or to fill the position by invitation. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted.
