The Education University of Hong Kong

Founded in 1994 and attained its University title in 2016, the Education University of Hong Kong is a publicly funded tertiary institution dedicated to the advancement of teaching and learning, through a diverse offering of academic and research programmes up to doctoral level on teacher education and complementary social sciences and humanities disciplines. The University aspires to further enhance its role as a leading university in the Asia Pacific region and beyond, with a focus on educational research, development and innovation and recognized for its excellence in nurturing outstanding and caring professionals as well as the impact of scholarship.

The University has an academic/teaching staff strength of about 450 and total student headcount of about 11,000. It has a Graduate School and three Faculties, namely, Faculty of Education and Human Development, Faculty of Humanities, and Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, comprising 16 academic departments, as well as 18 University-level and Faculty-level research and professional development centres. For more information about the University, please visit <http://www.eduhk.hk>.

We are looking for suitable candidates to fill the following positions. If you are excited by the prospect of contributing your expertise to the development of a leading university at the heart of Asia Pacific region and beyond, we would like to hear from you.

Chair Professors / Professors

The University is seeking to appoint senior academics who are creative, future-oriented with a passion for their work and a willingness to lead teams of bright and young academics towards successful careers and making a positive impact in their communities.

The appointees are expected to have a strong publication record and international reputation. They should also have leadership experience; be good teachers; and be able to contribute to collaborative research and academic programme development, to secure external funds, and to serve the community with their expertise. Applicants should also have an appreciation of the rewards and challenges of working in a multicultural context.

Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences

The Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences comprises six cognate Departments, namely: Asian and Policy Studies, Social Sciences, Mathematics and Information Technology, Science and Environmental Studies, Health and Physical Education, and Cultural and Creative Arts.

Applications / Nominations are invited from the following departments:

Department of Asian and Policy Studies

Social Policy (Health, Social Protection and Welfare Policy), Comparative Higher Education Policy, Governance and Public Policy (Ref: CPP/APS/0317)

The Department of Asian and Policy Studies (APS) is a research intensive Department that prides itself on policy driven research focused on Asia. The Department's faculty are engaged in research addressing education policy, health policy and social services, urban and housing policy, ageing and social policy, as well as regulation, energy sector governance, and broader research issues focused on the political economy of Asian development and foreign and international policy in Asia. To further enhance its research strengths, the Department of Asian and Policy Studies seeks applications for academic position(s) at the rank of Chair Professor / Professor with a relevant Doctoral Degree in Political Science, Policy Studies, or other relevant disciplines.

Applicants should have an international reputation, as evidenced by an outstanding record of high-quality research and scholarly publications, and substantial successful experience in soliciting competitive research grants. Their research profile should fit into one or more of the Department's teaching and research clusters and be Asia-focused: social policy (including health, social protection and welfare policy), comparative higher education policy, governance and public policy. The appointee will be expected to play a central role in academic leadership and mentoring junior faculty and contribute to the undergraduate and postgraduate degree programmes in the Department.

Department of Cultural and Creative Arts

Visual Arts / Art Education (Ref: CPP/CCA/0317)

The Department of Cultural and Creative Arts aims to be a premier arts education provider in the region and is committed to sustain a creative and dynamic interdisciplinary environment that promotes and supports high standards of professionalism in teaching, learning, research and knowledge transfer. It aims to nurture skilled, knowledgeable and caring graduates and empower them to achieve academic and artistic excellence in transformative roles as innovative educators, enterprising community-based arts practitioners, creative thinkers and cultural leaders in the 21st century.

Applicants should have a relevant Doctoral Degree and substantial professional teaching experience in the field of Visual Arts / Art Education, and demonstrate a very strong track record in artistic practice and/or publications. They are expected to take a leading role in curriculum / programme development at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels; achieve high professional standard in teaching; and partake in departmental activities and management.
