Introduction

As a research student at the University, you will follow a programme of study under the guidance of a principal supervisor and a supervision panel. At the start of your programme, you will draw up a plan for your research in consultation with your supervisor for completion of your thesis within the period of registration for the degree. Your work plan and training programme will be reviewed annually in the light of your research needs and progress.

The research training programme at EdUHK consists of four core courses. The core courses provide a broad coverage of the central skills and ethical and methodological issues of research in education, social sciences, humanities, languages and linguistics, and creative arts and culture. The courses, workshops and seminars provide the opportunity for you to become part of the University’s larger research community. You will be able to meet and discuss your work with students and staff from different academic departments and learn more about the research taking place at the University.

Upon the completion of the programme, students should be able to:
- Critically appraise the literature;
- Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the theories and/or policies as applied to a specialty practice area;
- Apply advanced skills in research design as well as methods for data collection and analysis appropriate for the areas of study;
- Demonstrate an understanding of and full commitment to the underlying values and ethics in the scientific inquiry in the chosen area; and
- Employ effective presentation skills for the dissemination of research results and outcomes.

PhD and MPhil Curriculum

Completion of a PhD degree normally requires 3 - 4 years of full-time study: 3 years for students with research master’s degree; 4 years for students without research master’s degree; completion of a MPhil degree normally requires 2 years of full-time study. Students pursuing MPhil or PhD studies are first required to register provisionally for the degree and their registration will be confirmed after successfully undertaking a Confirmation of Candidature. The Confirmation of Candidature is expected to be taken after 12 months of study. This confirmation process provides an opportunity for the students to submit and obtain recommendations on a plan for the structure of their research programmes, describe the investigative programme and identify the range of expertise necessary to complete the research. Application for upgrade from MPhil to PhD will be considered after confirmation of candidature and completion of the coursework requirements.
Medium of Instruction

The medium of instruction and assessment is English.

Entrance Requirements

PhD

A Master’s degree (or equivalent qualification) from a recognised university; or a Bachelor’s degree with first class honours (or equivalent qualification) from a recognised university.

MPhil

A Bachelor’s degree (or equivalent qualification) from a recognised university.

English Language Requirements*

Applicants with a Bachelor’s or Master’s degree at a university where the programme was taught and assessed in English are not required to demonstrate competency through one of the following minimum requirements:

1. overall score of IELTS 6.5 with no subtest lower than 6.0; or
2. a TOEFL score of 550 (paper-based test) or 80 (internet-based test); or
3. other equivalent qualifications.#

* Individual field of study such as English language may have higher requirement.
The College English Test (CET) is not accepted as an equivalent qualification.

Financial Assistance

Full-time research students at The Education University of Hong Kong are offered financial supports to cover their tuition fees, daily subsistence, and other expenses that may incur during the course of their studies. There are mainly three types of financial supports as outlined below.

Tuition Waiver Scheme

Starting from 2018/19 academic year, the Government would provide tuition waiver for all local students enrolled in UGC-funded RPg programmes.

Postgraduate Studentship

All full-time research students admitted to the RPg programmes are automatically considered for Research Postgraduate Studentship (RPGS). As a form of scholarship, RPGS provides the RPg students with financial assistance to study the programme. RPGS is given based on academic merit; and the award is not taxable income. The value of the studentship shall be determined by the University from time to time. The monthly stipend for the 2018-19 academic year is HK$16,200 (approximately US$2,070) for all MPhil and PhD students and HK$16,500 (approximately US$2,100) for post-candidacy PhD students. RPGS shall be tenable on an annual basis and awards for the subsequent years will be reviewed and determined by the University, subject to satisfactory performance of the RPGS holders. RPGS holders may also simultaneously be recipients of government loans and grants, and they may receive other scholarship awards on condition that this does not violate the terms and conditions of the other awards.

Holders of RPGS are required to undertake duties that carry educational benefits for the holders, such as, but not limited to, other research/academic activities, as assigned by the University. The amount of the duties shall not exceed, on average, 10 working hours per week in any full twelve-month period.

The Hong Kong PhD Fellowship Scheme

The Hong Kong PhD Fellowship Scheme (HKPFS) is designed to attract the best and brightest students in the world to pursue their PhD studies in a tertiary institution in Hong Kong funded by the University Grants Committee (UGC). The scheme awards applicants with outstanding qualities of academic performance, research ability/potential, communication and interpersonal skills, and leadership abilities. It provides a monthly stipend of HK$25,100 (approximately US$3,220), plus HK$12,600 (approximately US$1,600) per year for conference and research-related travel expenses.

Other Forms of Financial Aids

Contingent on satisfactory progress and availability of funding, research centres or academic units of the University may be able to offer part-time assistantship (research assistantships or teaching assistantships) to research students. You are advised to talk with department or research centre you affiliate with for such opportunities.

Tuition Fee

The tuition fee for the 2019/20 academic year is HK$42,100 (approximately US$5,430) per annum, which is provisional and subject to adjustment. Tuition fees paid are normally not refundable or transferable.

This programme is designed to develop leaders with the capacity to operate successfully in an international leadership environment, and lead educational change in an East Asian context. Practicing and aspiring school leaders, including principals, middle leaders, teacher leaders, curriculum leaders and NGO managers are encouraged to apply. Participants should also be highly motivated, ambitious, willing to question and to share expertise.

Programme Structure
The degree programme comprises 6 courses taught online, a residential School Improvement Institute and a School-based Inquiry Project.

Online Courses
- Organisational Behavior
- Effective School Leadership
- International Perspectives on Educational Reform
- Leading Organisational Change
- Leading Professional Learning
- Leading Learning Organisations IB Certificates

IB Certificate in Leadership Practice
The IB Certificate in Leadership Practice is designed for educators and administrators who want to improve their leadership capabilities or career aspirations in an IB context. Participants develop and refine their ability to take on leadership responsibilities and understand their role in guiding a school through IB authorisation and implementation. It is tailored for:
- IB coordinators and aspiring teacher/leaders
- New administrators in IB World Schools
- Teachers and administrators from non-IB schools who wish to develop understandings of leadership in an IB context.
Participants in the IELC may earn the IB Certificate in Leadership Practice by completing the 6 online IELC courses. Those who aim to pursue this option should ensure that their course assessments demonstrate applicability to IB leadership issues and contexts. This may be done either by relating their coursework to the IB context in which they work, or by drawing upon additional resources provided in the “IB Hub” to examine issues pertaining to IB programme authorisation, implementation and contexts.

IB Advanced Certificate in Leadership Research
The IB Advanced Certificate in Leadership Research uses rigorous investigative work to give educators and administrators a more profound understanding of IB leadership responsibilities and capabilities. It includes research within the context of IB leadership as well as deep reflections on personal leadership practice. It is tailored for:
- Individuals who have already gained leadership experience in IB contexts
- School heads, curriculum coordinators, heads of department and professional development leaders who wish to reflect on their own leadership capabilities and issues in the contexts in which they are working.
IELC participants who wish to earn the IB Advanced Certificate in Leadership Research may do so by completing all IELC coursework. Assessments should be related to matters pertaining to leading in IB contexts. This includes the School-based Inquiry Project, which asks participants to conduct a focused study of leading change. Those seeking the Advanced Certificate in Leadership Research should have at least three years experience in IB schools.

The IELC offers credit exemption for participants who have completed programmes of the Ontario Principals Council and International School Leadership Ltd.

This programme has given me a better understanding on family structures, marital relationships, and parenting and parental beliefs. These issues could greatly affect children’s development and their values formation. Both Chinese and Western researches and case studies were covered in the programme to elaborate the importance of family education. After completing the programme, I share the knowledge and skills I obtained from the lectures with my friends and students and encourage them to enhance the strength in their families.

After graduating I work as a speech therapist at an NGO. I am now responsible for reaching out to different kindergartens to help the preschoolers overcome their communication and speech problems.

The most unforgettable moment was when a child greeted me using a full sentence after a summer vacation. Just one year ago he was not able to say even a single word. After going through therapy his improvement was incredible.

At University, I had amazing placement opportunities. I met an elderly woman who had swallowing difficulties. Although I tried many different treatment approaches with her, I made very little progress. My supervisor, Ms Esther Kwok helped me think through other possible causes; how was her everyday eating habits, if she could manage to swallow her medicine, whether she had family support, and whether she is receiving the necessary nutritional intake based on her current diet?

I find it incredibly meaningful to help those in need, especially during the difficult times of their lives. It means a lot to the clients as well as their families. I think the strongest attribute of this programme is that it addresses those with learning disabilities. Working at an NGO that emphasizes holistic care, I have to work with educational psychologists, occupational therapists, physical therapists, social workers and special child care workers. This programme prepared me with a collaborative mindset so that I can customize the best therapeutic plan for my clients.

The knowledge and skills are highly transferrable internationally. I passed the clinical certification examination for Speech-language and Audiology Canada. This means I am also qualified to practice as a speech language pathologist in Canada.

Jessica Huen
Alumna, MScESLPLD
Speech Therapist

I am sure all MScESLPLD students find practicum most challenging but also most fulfilling. I loved the chance to help a wide range of clients at the Hospital Authority and various NGOs, from children to adults to the elderly. I served clients with swallowing difficulties, speech problems, and students with special educational needs. Every client is unique, as well as their family. With help from my supervisors, I approached each individual in a unique way. My supervisor Ms Polly Lau was instrumental to how approached this.

I had a great summer as I was given the chance to join a Speech Language Therapy Summer School in Italy. Our team won the Best Paper Poster Presentation Award out of the 21 participating universities from Europe, America and Asia. We demonstrated a unique way to teach Cantonese, to pay attention to the six contrastive lexical tones of Cantonese.
