

Global Elements added to ENG4901 Honours Project in 2015-16:

Course lecturer: Dr TRENT, John Gilbert

I included the following in the Hons. project course.

- I have included comparative research from different international contexts within the course.
- Students were encouraged to consider similarities and differences in teaching and learning in different international contexts.
- Students were encouraged to consider the possible applicability of the results from their research in Hong Kong within broader international contexts.
