

Course Lecturer: SAVELYEVA, Tamara (Dept of IELL)

Course: GEG1065 The Future We Want: International Education for Sustainable Development

Semester 2, 2016-17

Global elements to be incorporated

1. Involves faculty and students from the Americas, Mainland China and Hong Kong;
2. Connects participants' experiences with two major global sustainability points of debate: diversity and complexity;
3. Includes global case studies, developed by the participating international faculty members;
4. Involves five real-time student-led UN-like Meetings of the Parties, via videoconferencing;
5. The global scope of this course initiates collective on-line and Moodle forum conversations about global sustainability among students from the participating universities.