Assistant Computer Officer (Ref: 2000002)
Office of the Chief Information Officer

The Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO) has a vision to be a world-class provider of information and communications technology services and solutions to support and enhance teaching, learning, research and administration of the University.

The OCIO provides quality services to support all central information systems in support of teaching, learning, research and administration. It places emphasis on staff’s career/professional development. The Office is looking for quality professionals to fill the vacancy of Assistant Computer Officer.

The appointee will be assigned to the Network Services Team. He/She will mainly be responsible for (a) developing and managing various network services (e.g. wired and wireless networks, DNS, DHCP, RADIUS, etc.); (b) supporting various Directory services (e.g. Active Directory, eDirectory, Open LDAP, etc.); (c) managing security services (e.g. Firewalls, Intruder Protection System, Multiple Factor Authentication (MFA), Network Access Control (NAC), etc.); (d) carrying out computing programming (e.g. JAVA) for self-developed IDM; (e) conducting training courses related to networking and security; (f) assisting in maintenance of the University’s computing environment. The appointee will also be required to work shifts on Saturdays.

Applicants should have a recognized Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science, Information Technology, Information Engineering or related discipline with at least one year of relevant full-time post-qualification experience with good knowledge and working experience on operating system security, wired/wireless network security and data centre security. They should have solid hands-on experience in LDAP, MFA and JAVA programming. Knowledge in Windows and Linux servers, routers and switches, common network and authentication protocols such as SNMP, TCP/IP, SAML, Kerberos are preferred. Applicants should have high proficiency in written and spoken English and Chinese; and with good communication skills.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract. Fringe benefits include contract-end gratuity, leave, medical and dental benefits.

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for this post. Applicants should complete the online application form and upload a full CV. Review of applications will start from 31 January 2020, and will continue until the post is filled. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes. For details of the Personal Information Collection Statement, please refer to http://www.eduhk.hk/jobsopp/index.php?glang=en.

All applications will be treated in strict confidence. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted. The University reserves the right not to fill the position(s) advertised.

Further information about the University is available at http://www.eduhk.hk.

EdUHK is an Equal Opportunities Employer.