

About Repeat Review Visit to the Doctors

Q1. : Why is it that I do not always get better after my first visit to the doctors?

A : It is generally accepted as good medical practice for your doctor to try simple and more conservative treatments first to help you get better using your own immunity as much as possible. So, sometimes you may have to make a repeat review visit in case you need stronger medicine.