

Professor Jim Chi-yung and his dedication to tree conservation

- Xinhua News ran an interview with Professor Jim Chi-yung, Chair Professor & Advisor of Geography & Environmental Science, on his dedication to tree conservation in the city in the past 40 years.
- Professor Jim is also currently the project consultant for CLP's "Sky Woodland" Project at its Chui Ling Road substation in Tseung Kwan O. He talked about other tree conservation work such as the rescue of a century-old camphor tree and dying banyan trees in Tsim Sha Tsui, and the design of green roofs for more than 20 high buildings in the city.
- Jim recalled his return to HK in 1981 after obtaining a PhD degree in the UK and starting his teaching career in HKU, and his aspiration to tree study since then. His achievements in the city's tree conservation have gradually earned him global recognition.
- <http://www.news.cn/gangao/20241222/26779e3822d04b86bd04eb0c594a4302/c.html>
- <https://www.hongkongherald.com/news/274874398/feature-dr-tree-greens-hong-kongs-urban-concrete-jungle>