Part II

The University's Graduate Attributes and seven Generic Intended Learning Outcomes (GILOs) represent the attributes of ideal EdUHK graduates and their expected qualities respectively. Learning outcomes work coherently at the University (GILOs), programme (Programme Intended Learning Outcomes) and course (Course Intended Learning Outcomes) levels to achieve the goal of nurturing students with important graduate attributes.

In gist, the Graduate Attributes for Sub-degree, Undergraduate, Taught Postgraduate, Professional Doctorate and Research Postgraduate students consist of the following three domains (i.e. in short "PEER & I"):

- Professional Excellence;
- Ethical Responsibility; &
- Innovation.

The descriptors under these three domains are different for the three groups of students in order to reflect the respective level of Graduate Attributes.

The seven GILOs are:

1. Problem Solving Skills
2. Critical Thinking Skills
3. Creative Thinking Skills
- 4a. Oral Communication Skills
- 4b. Written Communication Skills
5. Social Interaction Skills
6. Ethical Decision Making
7. Global Perspectives

1. Course Synopsis

This course is a continuation of the Capstone Project I: Research Methods and Proposal, and serves as a culminating academic and practical experience for students. It is a project-based learning avenue that enables our students to consolidate, integrate, and reflect on their undergraduate experiences for transiting to (and even celebrating) their upcoming post-graduation life –such as entering the workplace. Students will be guided to conduct a self-chosen social innovation project. The topic may be related to broad, relevant issues, or how these main themes relate to a particular societal context. The skills of social innovation and entrepreneurship, including formulation of project ideas, data collection, design thinking, prototyping, analysis, project management, and pitching, will be further developed in this process. It leads to a reflective social innovation project that serves as a capstone for the honours degree programme. By the end of the course, they are expected to create a project output, present on it, and submit a project report.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CILO₁ identify and pursue a social innovation project of interest arising from the programme;
 CILO₂ select and utilize the research method and project management skills appropriate to their own social innovation;
 CILO₃ conduct an in-depth study and analysis of the chosen social innovation; and CILO₄ report on the processes and results of the social innovation project.
