Part II

The University's Graduate Attributes and seven Generic Intended Learning Outcomes (GILOs) represent the attributes of ideal EdUHK graduates and their expected qualities respectively. Learning outcomes work coherently at the University (GILOs), programme (Programme Intended Learning Outcomes) and course (Course Intended Learning Outcomes) levels to achieve the goal of nurturing students with important graduate attributes.

In gist, the Graduate Attributes for Sub-degree, Undergraduate, Taught Postgraduate, Professional Doctorate and Research Postgraduate students consist of the following three domains (i.e. in short "PEER & I"):

- Professional Excellence;
- Ethical Responsibility; &
- Innovation.

The descriptors under these three domains are different for the three groups of students in order to reflect the respective level of Graduate Attributes.

The seven GILOs are:

1. Problem Solving Skills
2. Critical Thinking Skills
3. Creative Thinking Skills
- 4a. Oral Communication Skills
- 4b. Written Communication Skills
5. Social Interaction Skills
6. Ethical Decision Making
7. Global Perspectives

1. Course Synopsis

This course examines the response of the international community to a range of environmental problems, such as climate change, water pollution and over exploitation of natural resources. The course also looks at many of the sources of environmental and resource problems currently facing the world. The creation, implementation and effectiveness of international environmental agreements and regimes are explored, as are the actions and policies of a variety of international and transnational actors, ranging from traditional nation-states and intergovernmental organizations to multinational corporations, nongovernmental organizations and diffuse transnational environmental movements and networks. The course brings together questions of development, equity and security with those about international and global governance, ecological change and sustainability.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILO_s)

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CILO₁ develop understanding of international and transnational environmental politics, policy and governance, including informal governance.
- CILO₂ assess the importance and causes of major environmental problems and transnational responses to them by governmental and nongovernmental actors.
- CILO₃ critically analyse governments' and organizations' official statements and policies related to the environment.
- CILO₄ logically think about and discuss international and global environmental policy and politics.
- CILO₅ demonstrate understanding of the how global environmental changes, their causes and the world's responses to them affect the welfare of other people and other species.
