Part II

The University's Graduate Attributes and seven Generic Intended Learning Outcomes (GILOs) represent the attributes of ideal EdUHK graduates and their expected qualities respectively. Learning outcomes work coherently at the University (GILOs), programme (Programme Intended Learning Outcomes) and course (Course Intended Learning Outcomes) levels to achieve the goal of nurturing students with important graduate attributes.

In gist, the Graduate Attributes for Sub-degree, Undergraduate, Taught Postgraduate, Professional Doctorate and Research Postgraduate students consist of the following three domains (i.e. in short "PEER & I"):

- Professional Excellence;
- Ethical Responsibility; &
- Innovation.

The descriptors under these three domains are different for the three groups of students in order to reflect the respective level of Graduate Attributes.

The seven GILOs are:

1. Problem Solving Skills
2. Critical Thinking Skills
3. Creative Thinking Skills
- 4a. Oral Communication Skills
- 4b. Written Communication Skills
5. Social Interaction Skills
6. Ethical Decision Making
7. Global Perspectives

1. Course Synopsis

Qualitative research methods are designed to achieve a deep understanding of the meaning of experiences, situations, events, and actions for the people involved in them, as well as the contexts within which people act and the influence of context on their thinking and actions. Qualitative methods are instrumental in studying the nature of, complexities in, and social and cultural challenges faced by society and communities at all levels and scales. Furthermore, by virtue of direct contact between researcher and research participants, qualitative methods are also crucial for constructing knowledge transfer activities between the university and the community. This course thus provides a focused introduction to qualitative research methods, covering the nature and purposes of qualitative research methods, integration of sociological concepts and empirical research questions, methods of qualitative data collection and analysis, and issues of research quality. Specifically, this course focuses on participant observation (fieldwork), documentary analysis, and in-depth qualitative interviews. Assessment tasks are designed to engage students' active community participation while critically reflecting on qualitative research design through first-hand experiences, practical crafts, and public presentation of research results.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CILO₁ Discuss the purposes for which qualitative research methods are particularly appropriate, the types of research questions that qualitative research is most suited for answering, and the nature of qualitative research design;
- CILO₂ Construct appropriate empirical qualitative research questions derived from concepts from sociology and community studies;
- CILO₃ Design and undertake the collection of qualitative data using participant observation and qualitative interviews;
- CILO₄ Analyze qualitative data;
- CILO₅ Present the results of small-scale qualitative research projects.
